Saturday evening about 7:30 o'clock, Charles Phenix, a white man, was knocked down by Ed Franklin, a colored man, and received injuries from which he died that night. The trouble arose over 70 cents which Phenix claimed Franklin and another negro named Taylor had stolen from him in a crap game. They met on the pavement in front of the St. James hotel. Franklin struck Phenix with his fist somewhere on the face or head and knocked him down. He fell on his right side, his head striking the pavement first. He never regained consciousness and never knew what hurt him. He was taken to the county jail in a hack, and Dr. Holcomb, county physician, was summoned but he could afford no relief. The body was taken to Undertaker Artell's apartments where a post mortem examination was held Sunday afternoon by Drs. Guy, Emerson, Jacobus, Clary, Pickens and Elder. A fracture of the skull was found on the left side, just above the ear, and on the right side the brain was clothed with blood. His wife was visiting at their old home in Peoria, Ill., and the body was taken there for burial, leaving on the Santa Fe this morning accompanied by his stepson, Wm. Phenix. Phenix is a plasterer and a well known character around town. His normal condition is about half drunk and it is said he was in his normal condition Saturday. He is described as being ugly and mean while under the influence of liquor, but when sober no nicer man or better citizen lived. He had been on a spree for several days, but many with whom he had talked on Saturday afternoon did not detect anything in his manner denoting drunkenness. The crap game over which the trouble arose occurred some time previous, and it seemed to prey on Phenix's mind. He accused the negroes of robbing him every time he met them until it probably got monotonous.

W. B. Davis, who says his home is one mile west and four miles south of Hunnwell, in the Strip, was brought up Saturday evening from South Haven charged with having forged a grain check upon the firm of Miller & Sons of that place. One of the Crookharts arrested Davis and brought him to this city. The forged check originally called for $30, but it had been raised to $80 when presented at the South Haven bank to be cashed. C. L. Crookhart, cashier of that bank, who is noted for his shrewdness in detecting bogus checks, thought he "smelt a mouse" in this case and refused to cash the check without first investigating its validity. Accordingly he told Davis to wait a moment until he stepped over to see Mr. Miller upon whom the check was drawn. But Davis would not wait. As soon as Crookhart went out, Davis made his escape in an opposite direction, jumped into his rig and started off. He did not go far until Constable Crookhart had him under arrest. Davis claims that he was hired by another party to cash the check. He says he was offered five dollars by a party, whose name he refuses to divulge, if he would do the job. He says his home until recently was at Shawnee, O. T., but of late he has been assisting in a threeching outfit. This family is now upon a claim southwest of Hunnwell, as stated. He is a rather young looking man and does not resemble a professional forger, either in actions or appearance. Davis was taken to Hunnwell this morning by Sheriff Heskett to have a hearing before Justice J. N. Bunce at 1 o'clock this afternoon. County Attorney Rogers also went down to prosecute in the case.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 14.—Governor Ellerbe this afternoon received a dispatch from George M. STOCKS AND BONDS

SHARE MARKET, BY CONTRAST, SEEMS A DULL ONE.

Total Sales Fall Below the Half-Million. Mark and There is Also a Falling Off in the Activity in Bonds—Early Animation Shows Many New-Record Prices—Reaction and Bear Efforts Produce a Reaction—Market Firms Later, But Not Changes are Slight for Leading Shares—Americans Strong in London.

New York, Aug. 16.—There were periods today when the market for stocks had an appearance of actual dullness. But this was only by contrast with recent markets. The total sales fell below half a million shares by over 50,000 shares, which is what it did not do for any whole trading day of last week. There was a large falling off also in its activity in the bond department. What-ever striking animation there was, was in the first hour of trading. The buying during this period was brisk, arbitrage brokers joining with the commission house agents to swell the demand. This represented the working off of the accumulation of orders received by commission houses over Sunday. London was buying some of the international shares at the same time that it was selling others. As a result of this sales bounded lightly upwards, to new record prices for the year in a number of prominent stocks. The grangers were actively traded in at the higher level, Burlington showing the sharpest gain, St. Paul being most actively dealt in. St. Paul was the leader of the list and was quite largely bought for London account. Burlington touched 91 1/4 per cent in the opening dealings, but closed a point below that. The other grangers moved over a much narrower range, but closed but little above the lowest. The upward bound of prices at the opening invited additional buying. The professional bears added their utmost efforts. They had in their favor some reports of crop damage in the west, and the result was shown in a reaction in prices of the grangers and southwestern, which had a sympathetic effect upon the whole list. Prices of many stocks were carried below Saturday's close. Although there was a firmer tone later on slight recovery, the market failed to fully regain its strength carried over from the previous day. The most active leaders of the market show only slight changes from Saturday. The net changes, though slight, are mostly gains, one or two of the grangers being exceptions.

THE DAY'S SALES.

The total sales of stocks today were 413,491 shares, including: Atchison 3,445; preferred 22,142; Chesapeake and Ohio, 21,300; Burlington 24,400; Denver and its Grande preferred 10,450; Louisville and Nashville 8,330; Manhattan 14,000; Missouri, Kansas and Texas preferred 3,700; New Albany and Chicago 2,400; New York Central 23,001; Northern Pacific 8,000; preferred 18,300; Reading 6,700; Rock Island 8,700; St. Paul 34,275; St. Paul and Omaha 3,615; Southern Railway preferred 4,200; Union Pacific 15,000; Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf, 3,275; American Smelter, 8,270; American Tobacco 18,485; Bay State Gas 3,065; Chicago Gas 7,000; Pacific Mail 4,735; Sugar Company Chicago Great Western 17,400; Western Union 4,500.

BONDS.

The bond market showed a marked diminution in the volume of trading, as compared with recent averages, the total falling short of $2,000,000. The speculation also lacked aggressive strength, but the market was fully well supported and some substantial gains were registered in the less known issues. The aggregate transactions were $1,935,000.

FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

New York, Aug. 16.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegram says: "The stock markets opened dull today but recovered later on calmer values of the Afghan incident."

"Americans were strong. Arbitrage dealers were short of stock and bought largely. Prices, however, closed a fraction under the best. Indian affairs, however, exaggerated they be, had a bad effect on the market and have served to check the advance. In the event of a full account, Kaffirs have only partly recovered. Cables have been received saying that the recommendations of the industrial commission have not been accepted."

"There are no factions in the Roman church, and I am grieved and hurt by the publication of sensational articles, which are utterly without foundation in every way and which are not only unkind but are almost indecent. It is very unfortunate that a gentleman cannot pay a visit to the country he loves so dearly without being made the subject of a quantity of gossip that is simply petteiferous. I came, as I have always proposed, to see my friends and to attend the meeting at the Catholic university. I cannot help expressing my indignation at the unwarranted manner in which so many of the newspapers have seen fit to place a different purpose upon it."

The archbishop expressed much satisfaction with his duties in Rome. The statements that he had been a candidate for the archbishopric of New Orleans made vacant by the death of Archbishop Janneaux, are explicitly denied. On the other hand, the archbishop has reiterated his statement that he is not a candidate for the archbishopric and sent to Rome. Disregarding this request, the bishops have signified their high regard for Archbishop Keane by placing his name at the head of the list of three names from which Rome will make the final selection of a successor to Archbishop Janneaux. The friends of the archbishop are sincerely hopeful that the final choice will not fall upon him, as they desire that he shall continue in his important post at Rome, at least until a more northerly bishopric shall be open.

BOGUS DIPLOMAS SOLD.

"School of Osteopathy" at Kansas City, Mo., is so charged.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 16.—In a signed article in the Star this evening, Dr. William Smith, a professor in the Kirkville, Mo., School of Osteopathy, exposes the "National School of Osteopathy," so-called, of this city, which he declares, sold him a diploma for $100 within a week, although he had not taken a day's study in the institution. The supposed school has been in existence for some time and had as its faculty E. D. Barber, Bertha M. Barber and W. A. McCormack. The officers of the Kirkville school, whose founder is Dr. A. T. Still, the discoverer of the science, have decided to bring criminal proceedings against the concern.

Point Chase, Aug. 14.—Today's race for the Seawanhawack was over the triangular course. The weather was clear and bright. There was a light wind, about four miles an hour. The Glencairn won the second race.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

WHEAT KEEPS UP ITS GYMNASIUM AT A LIVELY RATE.

Openings Are Above Saturday's Close and the Desperation of shorts does not keep the wheat prices for a season, but the results are not so wide of the opening as in themselves to be quite remarkable. Transactions at New York nearly twelve million bushels—Chicago closes at 85 1/2 and New York at 91 5/8 cents.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—An advance of 23 1/2 cents was scored in September wheat in the first forty-five minutes, trading on 'change today, the market in that time selling up to 85 1/2 cents. The opening was at 84 7/8, some hesitation being caused by the extremely large world's shipments and the heavy increase on passage, 2,000,000 bushels. Liverpool showed a 1 penny advance and the temperature in the northwest was dangerously near the frost line in many localities. London reported Paris still buying cargoes. The market was extremely nervous and many of the big operators kept aloof, but even at that, trading was heavy. Short difference in the opening caused September to bound to 85 1/2 cents on large short buying, the quickness with which the market responded to the buying reviving the talk of a September squeeze. Realizing that the market was at the top price, and the market slowly yielded until 84 7/8 cents was reached, when another reaction to 84 1/2 cents ensued. Northwest receipts were 25 cars against 182 last week and 207 a week ago. The closing was: August 86 cents; September 85 1/2; December 84 1/2; May 85 7/8.

New York, Aug. 16.—The wheat market developed pronounced activity and strength today, breaking the best previous price for the season by 1 1/2 cents a bushel. All day the market was nervous, erratic condition, with quotations moving violently over a range of about 2 cents a bushel. Shorts were completely demoralized by the scarcity of offerings and abundance of bull news, and their excited efforts to even up was one of the features of the day. At times realizing sales reached proportions sufficiently large to break prices sharply, but the market's inherent buoyancy carried it promptly back to its former level, and the close was very firm, although unsettled, at 85 1/2 cents, net and unsettled, at 85 1/2 cents, net and unsettled. Foreign buyers added to the general bull feeling on 'change. They bought in about fifty loads, of which sixteen loads of guaranteed No. 2 red were for France. On top of this demand was a strong set of English orders, and a total of 1,436,000 bushels in the English visible. Exporting Paris cables came higher, but a half-hourly prevented any later news being received. Many traders connected the French demand today with the reported lowering of duty in that country. Today September wheat opened at 81 1/4 cents, against 81 1/4 cents on Saturday, advanced to 82 1/4 cents, then, easing off a little, closed at 81 5/8 cents. Transactions were the heaviest in many days, reaching 11,550,000 bushels. Cash wheat was quoted at 81 1/2 cents to 81 5/8 cents for No. 2 red, according to delivery, f. o. b. afloat. The total stock of wheat in New York is 750,000 bushels, of which about 250,000 bushels is contract. The strength in other markets of the country all had a bearing on local prices, particularly the Chicago advance.
